

SCHOOL NOTES.

The high school pupils were faithful in making up the day missed Friday. The agreement was that if holiday was given Friday to enable the pupils to go to the Greenwood Fair and the Abbeville-Greenwood football game they would come to school Saturday. The roll books show that only 3 were absent from the eighth grade; 2 from the ninth; 3 from the tenth; and 1 from eleventh. That means only nine absences of 133 enrolled. Such faithfulness is conducive to more privileges.

The sponsors of the football team, elected by the football squad, have taken on themselves the task of raising the balance of $50 due to the football squad to Columbia for the Carolina-Clemson game. They are meeting with not so ready a response as one would suppose especially after our boys licked Greenwood in the hardest contest they have yet had. Greenwood was determined that the Abbeville boys should not score, and with breaks of luck in the Emeralds' favor for three quarters of the game, it began to look even to the most optimistic fan that nothing more than a tie could be made of the game. Ray Swetenburg's toe won the game and the game in the classic game next Thursday if the fans come across with another $50. The Carolina-Clemson alumni committee, which is handling the staging of the big game, have made special rates to the football squad only, not exceeding 25 boys, of $1 each. This is a saving of $1.50 on each seat as the reserved seats are selling for $2.50.

Some thoughtless fans have refused to contribute to this fund giving as their reason the fact that certain players are from time to time deserted from the team because they are not making "passing" grades on their scholastic work. First of all, the school is a place for receiving instruction which will fit boys and girls for both college and life work. Athletics is primarily a means to a desired end. When it becomes necessary to "let down the bars" of our standard in athletics then we will not have school athletics. The boy or girl who cannot find time and does not have the ambition to play ball and at the same time make creditable grades in their studies will find no place on our teams.

Several of the graded school teachers spent a part of Saturday morning discharging work going on in the high grades.

Over 200 pupils of the Abbeville schools were present at the Abbeville-Greenwood game Friday. The team was helped much by the lusty rooting from our side of the field.

Didn't our sponsors look swell in the new Studebaker, which the Greenwood dealer so kindly loaned them for the game. With the white sweaters, skirts, and the hats in the school colors of garnet and old gold they simply outclassed everything else on the Fair grounds. The car was very tastefully decorated in the school ribbons. Mrs. T. G. White, who so kindly devoted the day to chaperoning the sponsors and helping with the decorations, and Mr. Hafner who was business manager for the sponsors, deserve the thanks of the high school and we herewith tender our heartiest.

Clinton high comes Friday afternoon for their annual kicking. Our boys will be a shade off color from the Columbia trip, but we'll beat them just the same. If it is practical this game will be played on the new field in rear of the high school building going up on Chestnut street. Notice will be given later relative to the place of the game.

Edgemoor comes here for Armistice Day game which will be played Friday afternoon, Nov. 10. A regular barbecue dinner is to be served from 12 to 2 by the Parent-Teacher association on this day, and it is already guaranteed by the committee in charge to be one barbecue dinner where every customer will get more than his money's worth. With Mrs. Foster McLane in charge of the meats, guarantee of quality is assured. Nobody eat at home November 10. Hash will be sold by the pound, quart or quart after dinner is served.

ETHICAL EDUCATION IS MOST NECESSARY

Says Dr. Elliot, if We Are to Make Democracy Successful.

Cambridge Mass., Oct. 19.—The most necessary change to be wrought in American popular education is the introduction into the public schools of religious instruction, ethical instruction. President Emeritus Charles W. Elliott, of Harvard, said in an address here yesterday.

Speaking of function of education in heterogeneous democracies Dr. Elliot said

"Some of us believe that there is fundamental ethical belief which may justly be called religious and which conveys all the fundamental motives and all the spiritual powers without being characteristic of any Christian, Chinese, Buddhist, Confucian, Hindu or Moslem church. How can we get that kind of religious instruction, ethical instruction into all our public schools? We shall not make democratic education successful until we have accomplished that object.

"I imagine that agreement may possibly be reached among all the religion represented in this country as to the fundamental principles which could be introduced into every American school, and what I believe to be a necessary change to be wrought in American popular education.
